

You are Invited

Dear ,

*H*ello, how are you doing today? I hope that you are always in perfect condition, away from sickness or any pain. You do not know me, and I wish to know you more too. I know how exciting it is to meet new friends, because I believe that it helps us grow inside. By learning from others, by sharing stories and thoughts, we get to gain more knowledge, experiences and happiness. It is by reaching out too, that we are able to help others to see how great it is to be friends with many.

I am writing to invite you, to be one of my friends and friend to others too who we may meet in days to come. We want you to join our network of friends. And I hope that we will create a lasting friendship that will give inspiration to one another. Thanks to you and take care always.

Your new friend,

Jenny
